

ELTE Faculty of Social Sciences Némédi Dénes Library

What you need to know about us?

Our library collects and makes available printed and electronic information according to the educational and research needs of the Faculty.

What topics do we collect?

Main collection: sociology, political science, social psychology, cultural anthropology, demography, statistics, universal and Hungarian social history, social policy, social work, child protection, international studies, economics, European Union, health policy, history of faculty education, theses and dissertations made on the Faculty.

Minor collection: philosophy, human ecology, mathematics, religious anthropology, computer science, pedagogy, epidemiology, health management, public administration, law, psychology.

What services we have?

Document service:

- local use
- rental
- interlibrary loan
- scanning

Information services:

- information about the library's collection
- thematic literature research
- access to literature databases (available 24 hours a day)
- <https://konyvtar.elte.hu/en/online-forrasok>
- eBook package (available 24 hours a day) from Springer