Tárgynév:	History and theory of international society
Tárgykód:	IRB105
Tárgyfelelős neve:	Kopper Ákos
Tárgy követelménye:	Kollokvium (5)
Tárgy heti óraszám:	2/0/0

Oktatás célja:

The course focuses on the concept of international society, based on the theory of the English School of international relations. In the center of the English School's thinking is the assertion that through interactions between states shared norms and institutions evolve. The English school argues that in case states recognize that upholding these is their common interest we may talk not merely about a system, but a society between states. During the course students are introduced to the main concepts of the theory and the workings of various international societies starting from the Greek poleis, the Westphalia order or the China centered international society.
